THE EFFECTS OF WORK CLIMATE AND MOTIVATION
ON EMPLOYEE REACTIONS TO A NEW INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

We explored how the work climate affects reactions to a new IT. Self-determination theory was used to understand how different motivational styles mediate that relationship. Work climate and reactions to IT were positively associated with self-determined motivation, and negatively to controlled motivation. Self-determined motivation mediated the relation between work climate and many reactions to a new IT.